Good morning. We are going to climb Mt. Yamato next week, on October 13. I got some information about the weather from TV and I want to tell you about it. Look at the table. It shows the weather around Mt. Yamato next week. It will be rainy all day on the twelfth, but the rain will stop at night. On the next day, it's going to be sunny and the temperature will be between twenty and twenty-nine degrees. The highest temperature will be five degrees warmer than the day before. We should drink enough water and have enough rest when we climb the mountain. Let's be careful and enjoy climbing Mt. Yamato together.
