11. 次の英文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

My name is Aki. I read a book, Silent Spring, last month. It was written by Rachel Carson. She wrote about the danger of *farm chemicals in the 20th century. ①Many (in / heard / students / about / have / English / this book) class. After I heard about it, I became interested in environmental problems, and I thought about my family's *daily 5 habits.

I often went to a store near my house with my parents. We always went there by car. At the store, we were asked, "How many chopsticks do you need?" I always answered, "Three." And we were asked, "Do you need *plastic bags?" Mother always answered, "Yes, please."

10 At home I asked Mother, "Why do you have a lot of plastic bags in the kitchen?" She answered, "They will be useful someday." I told her about Rachel Carson and the environmental problems. She listened to me quietly, and said to Father and me, "Let's do something for the Earth."

Now we usually go to the store by bike. We always bring our own bags. We don't ask 15 for chopsticks or plastic bags at the store. Thanks to Rachel, we started to change our lives, but I still have a question about chopsticks.

Some people say that we don't *damage the forests because we use *remnants of wood to make chopsticks. Is that true? I asked Father about it. He said, "② I have no idea, but I've heard this. Many people have started carrying their own chopsticks."

20 “Silent spring” means “a spring without life,” Rachel Carson said. I like spring very much. I enjoy beautiful green leaves and the songs of birds. I can feel life. I can feel nature. We should try to protect our nature. We don’t have to do big things. Let’s do little things for the Earth. If each of us makes small changes, we can save the Earth. If we can save the Earth, it will be a better place for our children. Let’s start now.
