*Kenta and Sarah came to Minami Science Museum. They are looking at the floor guide at the entrance.

Kenta : Look. This museum has four *exhibitions now. Which one do you want to see first ?

Sarah : All of them look nice, but I'm the most interested in the special exhibition of robots. Can I see it first ?

Kenta : Sure Oh, wait ! Today's movie is going to start soon. Why don't we see the movie before that ?

Sarah : OK, we should not miss it.

Kenta : Let's go to the second *floor. After the movie, shall we see the exhibition of *fossils ?

Sarah : That's OK. Then I want to buy something for my family.

Kenta : Well, you can find many things at the museum shop, but maybe we should go there after seeing all of the exhibitions. After the two exhibitions on the second floor, let's see the most interesting exhibition to you.

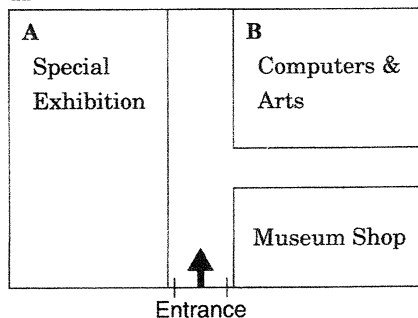

Sarah : Thanks ! And the last one also looks exciting.

Kenta : Yes, it does.

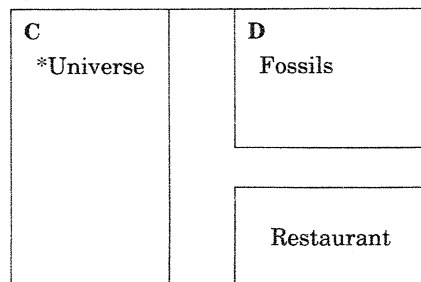

Sarah : Now, let's go.

Janet is a junior high school student in Japan. She likes cooking very much. She joined a cooking *contest at her school. The table shows the *result and she is making a speech about it.

Speech

Hi, everyone. I'm Janet. Our school had a school festival last month and there was a cooking contest. I joined it with my friends.

"What shall we make?" First, we talked about it because we had to make something new at the contest. Our *prefecture is very famous for good fruit and we have many kinds of fruit, especially in this season, so we decided to make something with fruit from our prefecture.

The *total *points of *appearance, *taste, *originality, and *popularity decided a *champion.

In appearance, our team got more points than the champion. In originality, we got as many points as Team E. However, the result shows that we should study more about taste. I think our *dish was not so popular because of this.

I was a little sad to see the result, but I had a very good experience. I want to try again next year. Thank you.
